Bureau of Land Management - Vale District
2012 Firefighter Recruitment Notice

Are YOU ready for a challenge?

Like an exciting job where you get to work outdoors? Where the work is physically and mentally challenging and provides a sense of accomplishment? Where you get paid to stay in shape and travel the northwest? Do you take pride in the work that you do? Or maybe you just need to earn money for college or supplement your income in the current economy? Then come join our award-winning team of wildland firefighting professionals at the Bureau of Land Management in Vale, Oregon.

We are looking for team players who want to be challenged both physically and mentally. If you take pride in your work and enjoy being part of a dedicated, safety conscious, team of public service professionals…and being part of team that cares about its employees, then being a Vale BLM firefighter might be right for you.

Vale BLM Fire is currently looking for seasonal and hire-when-needed firefighters for the 2011 fire season. Our fire season generally runs from June into mid October. Previous fire experience is a plus but not a requirement. You must meet the minimum requirements to qualify. High quality training and most equipment is provided. Some low cost housing is available during the summer months for certain positions. Some travel may be required. Applications are being taken from Nov 28 – April 30. Early consideration date is January 10.

If you are interested in becoming a wildland firefighter, see the link below: For application information go to:
